For the first time in the history of the Skyline Conference, Brigham Young University clashes with Wyoming Cowboys for the loop pigskin championship. Game time is 1:30 p.m. Saturday in Cougar Stadium.

The title starved Cats will be out to make the most of the fracas as they are currently riding in the favorite's role. BYU has never won a conference football championship and therefore Saturday's encounter is perhaps the most important date for the Cougars in 34 years of league play.

The Inter-Organizational Council present the departmental organizations on campus for today's program of Organizations Week.

The units have set up displays and exhibits to acquaint the studentbody with each individual type or organization. These exhibits will be in the four buildings around the quad.

Mat Dance Set

A mat dance is also scheduled for today at the Social Hall from 4:30 p.m. to 5:30. "Stag is the Style." The music is live and tickets are fifteen cents a person.

Departmental units offer stimulating activities and the opportunity of meeting outstanding men and women in a chosen field, says the IOC.

Through out-of-class activities including seminars, field trips, projects, and tours, there is the opportunity of becoming acquainted with faculty and other students interested in similar vocations and avocations.

Departments Named

Departmentals represented are Alpine Club, American Chemical Society, Association for Childhood Education, Campus Square Dance, Chemical Engineers, Chess Club, Civil Engineers, Dancing Club, Electrical Engineering, Forensics Council, Home Economics Club.

Industrial Arts, International Relations, Men's Commerce Club, Orchestra, Physical Education Majors, Press Club, Rodeo Club, Soccer Club, Stockmen's Club, Student Education Association, Student Nurses Association, University Archaeological Society, Young Democrats, and musical organizations.

Three finalists in the Heber J. Grant annual speech contest will be chosen from a field of ten contestants Monday at 4 p.m. in room 140 of the Speech Center.

The ten semi-finalists, which were chosen from 30 original participants, are Errol Fish, Bernie Parkard, Judy Shell, Kay Harris, Roy Tenney, Evelyn Brough, Rod Fye, Sharon May, Marian Day and Gail Spillbury.

Those passing the semi-finals will speak on the various spiritual topics in the forum assembly December 15, at which the winner will be presented with an award by some member of the Grant family, according to Nancy Briggs of the speech department.

In anticipation of the clash, BYU fans flocked to the ticket office early Monday morning for a choice of seats. To date the ticket office has issued 9400 grandstand seats and 2000 general admission. According to the ticket office there are some 3000 general admission left to be in-

For the BYU-Wyoming battle, a new seating arrangement has been worked out, but has met with considerable controversy among students. There has been more comment over the cheering section for this game than any previous game, according to the ticket office.

A pep rally, with coach Hal Kopp speaking and introducing seniors on the Cougar football team, will be held Friday at 7:30 p.m. in Smith Fieldhouse. Pep band, song-leaders, flag twirlers and cheerleaders will be present and invite the studentbody to join.

The Cougars are currently enjoying the national spotlight as the nation's top ground gainers. They overtook Colorado University last week as they ground out 248 yards, as compared to the Buffs who made a flimsy 62 yards against Utah.

The Cowboys will be bucking for their fourth loop title as they send the best of the "broncos" against the cunning Cats. Leading Wyoming's attack will be the Pokes' top ground gainer, Dick Hamilton and signal-caller

However, the Cowboys, strong at times, do not boast the stalwarts that hey did of yesteryear. Wyoming has notched a place for themselves in nearly every division of Skyline record books and has produced three first string All American players.

A happy note to Coach Hal Kopp is that his forces are geared up for this one and ready to go. Only end Curt Brown, who is still on the injured list, will miss suiting up for the battle.

PROGRAM PROMOTING—Friday assembly cast members (l to r) Sherry Hale, Roger Jordan and Gary Bush, make final changes in the script. The assembly will highlight a typical coed who answers the questions of a roving reporter concerning the functions of BYU student groups.

"Les E'Toiles" Theme for Alcyone Show

"Les E'Toiles," the star, will be the theme for the Alcyone fashion show tonight at 8 p.m. in the multi-purpose room of the Smith Family Living Center.

Purpose of the show is to give a sneak preview of the coming holiday fashions. Models will come through a star-studded curtain and proceed down a ramp which will extend into the audience.

At the end of the ramp will be an eight foot star with a large silhouette of the Eiffel Tower and an "A" built into the design.

French Refreshments
In keeping with the starry, French theme, refreshments will be French pastries and punch. Glasses for the show will come from Clark's for Her.

Fashion models for the evening are Diane Stead, Jean Sandstrom, Carol Stevens, Janet Griffen, Donna Schipper, Kathy Kuykendall, and Arlene Mulhern.

Dorms Work On Talent For Dance

In an effort to discover new and fresh talent on the Brigham Young campus, the Central Dance Committee is sponsoring a talent search.

All on-campus dorms and houses will participate. The talent will be presented during the intermission at the dance. One girl's and one boy's dorm will work together and find entertainment for a program. They will produce and put on their own show.

Each presentation will be judged and at the end of winter quarter a party will be given for the winners. The talent must be obtained from the dorms or on-campus houses.

This week at the victory dance, Knight Mangum Hall and the first floor of Helaman Hall B will be in charge of the intermission at the Smith Fieldhouse, and Bldg. 10 of Heritage Hall and first floor of Helaman Hall C will be appearing in the Social Hall.

Chairmen for the talent drive are Lorraine Jensen and Anna Joy Smith with Jerry Parker as Secretary.

RiVeda Unit Charts 'Mad Ball' Activity

Ri Veda Social unit is having a ball.

All women students are invited to attend "Operation Mad Ball" sponsored by Ri Veda Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in 246 McKay Bldg., according to Diana Woolley, president.

The Thursday night event is part of the unit's re-chartering plans for the year, and games, food and fun are planned for all who attend, Miss Woolley said.

"We invite all coeds who are interested in joining a social unit to come to the party and get acquainted with us," she added.

Under the re-charter program, Ri Veda is trying to build membership and during the year will have various activities to acquaint students with unit traditions, and members.

Women Like Newness in Products

By United Press International
Women today buy a new cake mix for much the same reasons Eve picked that apple, says Mary Prime, United Press writer.

Today, market research experts say women buy because they like to try new things, because they identify themselves with a product and want an attractive item and packaging.

Feminine characteristics haven't changed since Eve. Women have a desire for newness. If there isn't something new around, they go looking for it.

Senses Tell

A woman's senses are her buying guide. Touch is the main aid, but taste and sight—especially reaction to color—also are important.

Most ladies get emotional about their shopping. They want to know the why's behind a situation or product as well as facts, so that they can justify their purchases to themselves and their husbands. They also like positive statements about products, and run from guarantees.

Nothing is impersonal or abstract. A woman sees everything in the light of how it appeals to her. A result—she is easily insulted. If a manufacturer, clerk or salesman criticizes or talks down anybody of anything, a woman will apply it to herself.

DAYKIN'S SHOE REPAIR

89 No. University Ave.
Across from First Security

Small Details Important

Ladies also observe small details and often become so preoccupied with them that they miss the overall picture. One detail out of place on a package will throw them off completely.

An ad featured a woman identified as a mother, but the woman did not wear a wedding ring. Thousands of women wrote in—to complain, not to buy.

Women don't go in for anything that does everything. They like the time and labor saved, but the puritan concept of hard work as a virtue has not disappeared entirely. Instant living makes the household routine dull. Women need to create.

Fruit-Nut Candy

(UPI)—Here are two fruit-nut candy ideas for healthy snacks to satisfy a sweet-tooth.

Put raisins, dried apricots, prunes and walnuts through a food grinder. Pack into an oiled pan and cut in squares or roll into balls.

Or steam prunes over hot water until soft, then cook, remove pits and stuff with walnuts. Dip in melted milk chocolate for an elegant fruit candy.

Rate Fans Chase Refs After Game

ARCADIA, Calif., (UPI) — A mob of high school football fans chased four referees to the dressing room recently and rioted for nearly two hours following a game that was lost by a called-back touchdown. There were no injuries.

Wolfpack Handcuffed for Loop Title By Playing One Less Conference Tilt

University of New Mexico, the Chislerella dream team of Skyline play, is handcuffed, as far as the conference championship is concerned.

The Lobos have to sit and wait for the outcome of Brigham Young-Wyoming clash to see how they fit in the final Skyline standings.

Because Utah refuses to play the Wolfpack in football, New Mexico is robbed of precious percentage points in the final heat, since they play one game less than the rest of the conference.

The only way that the Wolfpack can win the crown is for a tie to result between BYU and Wyoming. The possibility of this to happen is limited this year, although the two teams have fought to a deadlock twice in the present decade.

Utah is standing on its constitutional right by refusing to play New Mexico. According to the "Mountain States Athletic Conference Constitution, By-Laws and Operating Code" (Revised June 1956) Part Three, page 32, a team only has to play five games to be eligible for the crown.

The constitution states: "A minimum of five (5) Conference games must be played for a team to qualify for the Conference Championship. In the event less than five (5) Conference games are played by an institution none of their games shall be computed, either for or against, in the seasonal standings."

Last year the arrangement helped Utah, as BYU and the Cowboys fought to a 0-0 state-mate. But this year, the chances are slim for such an event to re-occur.
